WOMAN'S WORLD

MRS. FLORENCE E. SHAAL.

She Has Won Wealth and Fame in the Life Insurance Field.

A bright woman who has made a conspicuous success in the field of life insurance and whose annual income is $10,000 or more a year is Mrs. Florence E. Shaal of Boston.

Mrs. Shaal was the first woman in the world to have absolute charge of a department of a large life insurance company, and she is regarded as the most successful woman manager of a department. She was born in Providence, R. I., about forty-five years ago. When quite young her people removed to Boston, and there she was graduated from the grammar and girls' high schools. Soon after that she became the wife of a young man who was just becoming a successful life insurance solicitor. Naturally she took an interest in her husband's business, and yet it was by accident that she herself became an agent.

In some way opportunity was given her to write one or two policies, and then she began looking about for others. Almost before she realized it she was one of the most valued solicitors on the staff of the big New York company for which she was doing business.

Going steadily ahead, in a few years she had written so much business for the company that she attracted the attention of the general officers in New York. After some deliberation it was decided to create for this pushing young woman a department which was then and for a long time remained unique. It was called the woman's department of the New England office and was under the absolute control of Mrs. Shaal. In a little time Mrs. Shaal had organized her own staff, and of late years her department has averaged more than $1,000,000 of new business for the company every year.

Every one in her department is a woman, even the attorney, Miss Amy Acton, and the physician, Dr. Eliza Taylor Ransom, both of Boston. There are about thirty agents on Mrs. Shaal's staff, and they cover New England thoroughly.—Philadelphia North American.

"I Always Do."
If you want to have a luxuriant head of hair at seventy don't part it in the same place from the time you leave school. If you do you will have a "dry walk" that would accommodate black beetles. No woman in the world has such beautiful hair as the woman who keeps well in sight of the prevailing fashion. It means that she frequently changes her mode of dressing, and change in dressing is as good for the hair as intelligent irregularity is for the human mechanism. Those harmless little words, "I always do," have been the stumbling block in many an aging woman's life.

"Why do you always double on a pin which so seldom comes off?" was asked a card player, who immediately replied, with a look of mingled pity and scorn, "Why, it is my system." It was a very bad system, but there was nothing more to be said.

So, with your hair as with many of your habits, try swinging off once in a while into new grooves and don't tramp yourself by a foolish regularity. Remember the axiom, "Wise men change their minds," and, it is to be hoped, sometimes their habits.

Troubles of a "Faculty Wife."

The wife of a young instructor who has $800 to $1,000 a year must do her own housework and can hardly offer her friends even tea and thin bread and butter. She is probably gently bred, often college trained, almost always plucky and independent. Even if she could leave the baby she will not, after the first year or so, accept a great deal of hospitality while the pleasure of returning it is entirely out of reach. Nor is there in this any commercial element of social barter. She simply knows that friendship may be spoiled by having all the favors on one side and wisely avoids the danger. She keeps her friends and is probably a pleasant neighbor too. Life, but that does not prevent her missing the larger opportunities. Carried on in various lines this certainly makes a difference, and the difference is felt the more keenly just because of the general democracy of sentiment and because a faculty of, say, 250 members may easily embrace all the degrees between a two maid establishment with wine cellar attachment and a no maid establishment with cornmeal mush for dinner and saltcellar attachment.—Atlantic.

CATARRH

A UNIVERSAL DISEASE

Catarrh usually begins with a cold in the head, but does not stop there. The mucous membranes all become inflamed and secrete a filthy, unhealthy matter which is absorbed by the blood and distributed to all parts of the body. The patient is then continually hacking and spitting, the nose is stopped up, the ears have a ringing or buzzing noise, the throat becomes sore, and as the unhealthy matter more thoroughly saturates the blood a general feeling of despondency takes possession of the system.

I had Catarrh for about fifteen years, and no man could have been worse. I tried everything I could hear of, but no good resulted. I then began to use S. S. S., and could see a little improvement from the first bottle, and after taking it a short while was cured. This was six years ago, and I am as well today as any man. I think Catarrh is a blood disease, and know there is nothing on earth better for the blood than S. S. S. My body feels more of S. S. S. than I do. Lapeer, Mich. M. MATSON.

Local applications cannot cure Catarrh, because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. They allay the inflammation and temporarily relieve the disease, but as soon as they are left off the trouble returns. The only way to cure Catarrh is to treat it through the blood. S. S. S. soon clears the blood of all Catarrhal matter and purges it of all irritating poisons, checks further progress of the trouble and completely cures the disease. S. S. S. keeps the blood in perfect order so that it can eliminate all waste matter that will produce Catarrh. Nothing equals this great vegetable remedy in the cure of this disease. Write for our book and any medical advice you wish. We make no charge for either.
